

Lucy Walton

Yesterday at 9:50 AM · 🌐

As indicated by Ellie's list, reading and educating yourself is an important first step to take in learning how to take anti-racist action (though by no means the only step you should take).

However, cost should not be a barrier to knowledge. I am putting together a list of texts on race, racism, and anti-racist work, mainly drawn from reading lists that are circulating around right now, to send to the library who are currently working to purchase ebooks on these topics for students to access over the summer. If you have books that you think are important for the library to have (particularly in electronic form) dm me or comment below!

*it is important to note some books are not available for the library to buy for electronic access so if your suggestion is not purchased that's probably why

Megan Pottenger, Julia Tayloe and 82 others

3 Comments

Like

Comment

View 1 more comment

Elizabeth Wright

If any students or alumni would like their own copies of these works (and to support authors of color as well) send me a message and we'll make sure you get them

Like · Reply · 23h

Like · Reply · 23h

Osama Syed

https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/18y0_2wm85L113fVWYdgljq9uullmbl3?usp=sharing

DRIVE.GOOGLE.COM

black revolutionary texts - Google Drive

Like · Reply · 1h

